

One of the most incredible innovations in portable accessories in ages! Now many of our top selling Platinum Series products are available with a remote, waterproof (submersible) wireless PTT, roughly the size of a quarter.

The PTT features a rubber coated button and Velcro strap that can be used to secure the PTT to the finger, clothing, handlebars, rifle barrel or any other convenient location. The lack of wire makes this PTT easy to conceal and mount (even when wearing short sleeves). The receiving in-line PTT acts as a backup double PTT unit.

The wireless PTT is set to a unique frequency, like your car remote, to avoid any interference with other units in the area. A reliable, long lasting battery is included and can be replaced when required. Does not require recharging!

Available for most portable models with power output from the accessory jack.
